

Typical switch over of 4 sensors using variables application diagram

Example 48 - Using function blocks to control a loop based on a selection sensor 1, 2, 3, or 4 using variables or digital sources.

Real world example is where a customer wants to control a temperature loop but wants to select which sensor will control the process

